Product Training and Support

Strengthen Foundational Skills and Expand ALL Students' Knowledge with Standards-Based Science Songs

This powerful training provides educators with effective, fun, memorable, and classroom-tested techniques. Instructional music is presented as a vehicle for curriculum integration while promoting student proficiency of the national and state performance science standards. Featuring brain-based research, this training will empower educators to use standards-based music to:

- Frontload learners with rigorous concepts, expanding their background knowledge and springboarding instruction
- Create emotional, long-term memory deepening understanding of the Four Bodies of Knowledge
- Activate multiple memory pathways, threading the Big Ideas
- Increase rigor and motivate the next generation to take ownership of foundational science skills
- Level the playing field for ALL students, developing cumulative language experience, especially for English language learners
- Directly instruct key scientific vocabulary, utilizing explanation, visualization, and repetition
- Set the optimum moods for actively engaging learners
- Reach multiple learning modalities by infusing visual anchor charts, lyric sheets, and audio sound clips into everyday instruction

All participants will leave with techniques containing standards-aligned strategies and examples to use with students immediately

Length: 2 hours

Audience: Educators grades: K-6

For more information and scheduling, please contact Musically Aligned

This training has been presented at numerous conferences and schools throughout the United States including: ABCUSD, ASTA (AZ), CABE (CA), CAG (CA), CAST (TX), CSTA (CA), CTA (CA), CVUSD, LSTA (LA), National Dropout Prevention Conference, SDSEA (CA), SECO (OH), STANYS (NY), SVUSD, TAGT (TX), and Teach the River (CA).
